

PrintTextbooks:

All textbooks are the property of the State and the County Board of Education. The student's name and teacher's name will be printed on a label and placed in the front of the textbook. No other writing should be in or on non-consumable textbooks. It is the responsibility of the student to keep up with their books. If a student loses or damages a textbook, he must pay the full price for the replacement of the book. Payment for lost textbooks should be made in the office. This is in accordance with state law and Jefferson County Board of Education policy.
